

A man walks into a bar. He's got a DVD player under one arm and a 16mm film can under the other. The bartender says, "You know you can't play an avant-garde film in a DVD player." The man says, "HAVEN'T YOU HEARD ABOUT THE AURORA VIDEO LABEL?"

AURORA VIDEO ANNOUNCING,
THE AURORA VIDEO LABEL,
AVANT-GARDE FILM/VIDEO TO GO.

By popular demand, Aurora Picture Show will be releasing select short film and video programs on DVD, beginning with:

LOST BROADCASTS: VIDEOS BY EILEEN MAXSON
THE BEST OF SLANT: BOLD ASIAN AMERICAN IMAGES and
ANDY MANN: STREET TAPES & CABLE ACCESS.

The avant-garde films and videos you watch at Aurora push the limits of cinema and along the way cause both the medium and the audience to evolve. Now, you don't have to try to explain this phenomenon to your friends. Each DVD title comes with a commissioned essay by some of the most important film writers, critics, and curators today, and like all Aurora collateral, our DVDs look pretty. Our specially designed packaging and menus are created by Sharp Egg and John Carrithers.

Visit www.aurorapictureshow.org for more info. The Aurora Video Label launches Summer 2007, and is distributed worldwide by Microcinema International.

 AURORA VIDEO

distributed by:

Don't forget to visit the Aurora Video Library, open and free to the public at 1524 Sul Ross, tel. (713) 868-2101 for an appointment.