

From: LiquidTreat <liquidtreat@letters.dynamicgraphics.com>
Subject: LiquidTreat - The Designer's Thirst-Quencher, Served Weekly
Date: February 18, 2005 10:02:16 AM CST

This email was sent to you by Dynamic Graphics Group.
To ensure delivery to your inbox, please add LiquidTreat@letters.dynamicgraphics.com to your address book or approved senders.

LiquidTreat

The designer's thirst-quencher...Served Weekly

What is LiquidTreat?

Submit a treat

Get a treat

Treat a friend

House Blend

There's always something old and something new, something fuzzy, and something blue available at the Monkey Do Collective in Houston. Top banana Jenny Conte is doing her part to revive the art of letter writing and button wearing by designing handsome, one-of-a-kind cardboard note cards and lively lapel pins. She's also sewing scary sachets called "Zippy Monsters" to store special pencils, pens, and other prized possessions. All monsters come filled with goodies to get you started.
<http://www.monkeydocollective.com>

Get a FREE
iPod Photo!

Do you PQ? →

Hot Shots

Calling all designers: Now's the time to get your priorities in order. Close the door. Log out of e-mail and send all calls to voicemail. Take a good long look at the work you produced last year because the deadline for AIGA's annual 50 Books/50 Covers and 365 competitions is fast approaching. Submit before March 4th to have your work reviewed by the finest in the field. Winners will be posted in July, and included in the new online AIGA Archives.
<http://www.aiga.org/content.cfm/upcomingcompetitions>

Juice Box

The elegant ladies at Eloise & Etienne in Fort Worth, Texas, are redefining the market of baby burp cloths and bibs with style. Patty Potter and Greta Hallgren design dainty duds (for infants and babies up to 3 years old) with real vintage fabrics and trims. Keep an eye out for their latest creation: a swing coat and matching jumper made out of vintage bark cloth. Off-season items include vintage pillowcase dresses and tablecloth pant sets. <http://eloiseandetienne.com/sample.html>

